About me

I have completed the Devmountain Coding Basics course, giving me a working knowledge of HTML, CSS, and Javascript and am currently working on a Full Stack Development Bootcamp through the University of Utah. I completed a Master's in Business Administration through Western Governor's University and a Bachelor's Degree from the University of Utah.

I am driven and autonomous with a passion for people. I enjoy learning and using what I have learned to adapt and improve my performance individually or as part of a team.
